HydroMassage Treats Mom to Free Massage for Mother's Day

Clearwater, Florida – May 5, 2010 – In honor of Mother's Day, HydroMassage is treating moms everywhere to a free massage. Perfect for busy moms, HydroMassage is a cost-effective alternative for those who enjoy traditional, hands-on massage but don't have the time or budget to indulge regularly.

"We know how hard moms work and how much they deserve a nice break," commented Paul Lunter, founder of HydroMassage. "We wanted to take this opportunity to offer moms a free massage, because not only will HydroMassage help them to relax and reduce stress, it also provides temporary relief from minor aches and pains."

HydroMassage is an amenity that has been used for over 20 years in spas, fitness centers, salons, chiropractic clinics, and medical facilities worldwide. HydroMassage sessions typically range between 10-15 minutes in length, and are priced so that people can literally afford to enjoy them every day.

"I recommend HydroMassage for patients who need to relax and help reduce pain, particularly if they have muscle spasms or tightness, commented Dr. Julia Wray, DC. "Some people prefer not to have hands-on massage, so for them the bed is a perfect option."

Mothers can visit www.hydromassage.com/mothersday to download a free massage coupon and schedule a free massage at any one of the participating locations across the U.S. Due to the overwhelming response HydroMassage has received from promotions similar to this in the past, mothers are recommended to contact the location of choice to schedule a free HydroMassage before visiting.

This offer is valid between Sunday, May 9th and Saturday, May 15th. For more information, visit www.hydromassage.com/mothersday.
